Message from the Vice-Chancellor

The Doon University was established by the Government of Uttarakhand by the Doon University Act, 2005 (Uttaranchal Adhiniyam Sankhya 18 of 2005) and recognized under 12 (B) of the UGC Act. Created on the premise of building an autonomous and accountable institution for higher learning, the university commenced academic sessions in 2010 and has reasonably done well by establishing itself firmly in a relatively shorter period of its academic journey. Still in the process of constant evolution, the university is catering to a number of students in from across the country providing a wide range of academic courses. Thus the Doon University has been playing a significant role in providing a considerable pool of quality human resource to the state of Uttarkhand and to the country indeed.

The university offers postgraduate degree programmes in seven schools; School of Communication (SoC), School of Environment and Natural Resources (SENR), School of Languages (SoL), School of Management (SoM), School of Social Sciences (SoSS), School of Technology (SoT), School of Physical Sciences (SoPS) and Dr. Nitya Nand Himalayan Research and Study Center in addition to a bachelor's degree programme under School of Design (SoD). Doctoral programmes are also offered by many schools. Degree program in Cinematic Studies and Home Science will also be started shortly.

We are a fast growing institution with the state-of-the-art facilities including physical and research infrastructure, recreational, sporting and cultural and other facilities. The university is proud of having highly qualified and committed faculty members and others for contributing to this narrative of constant growth of this academic institution. The faculty members have excellent academic profile which is reflected in their extra-mural research projects sanctioned by various funding agencies, impressive record of research publications and national and international seminars/conferences organized on recent advances in their respective disciplines.

Our strategy is designed to fulfill four objectives viz. excellent teaching, students' satisfaction, outstanding research and social responsibility. Thus our academic architecture is designed accordingly. In addition to this, we have established collaborative partnership with business, government, other research institutions and civil society organisations. Since it is a state institution, the university also aims at creating, promoting and disseminating knowledge and its practical application in the context of specific local needs. In an academic context where interdisciplinary approach is a global trend, we are attempting towards articulation and synergies between various schools, departments and programmes. Towards this end, we have also created various forum, study circles, clubs, seminars, workshops and other avenues for honing diverse skills. The University regularly invites scholars and scientists of eminence to our campus to deliver lectures on relevant studies, contemporary national and global issues and challenges.

The University has a very dedicated and responsive administrative staff headed by our Registrar Finance Controller, Assistant Registrar (Finance), along with other supporting staff facilitating academic pursuits and infrastructural development.

We look forward to welcoming you to the Doon University family.

Dr. A. K. Karnatak

8.6 School of Design (SoD)

The genesis of design education in India was laid in the early sixties when Pandit Jawaharlal Nehru, the first Prime Minister invited two eminent designers, namely, Charles and Ray Eames to prepare a report on the kind of design education which India should have as a developing country. The seeds of design were thus sown and this report nucleated the study of design as a discipline to be nurtured as a creative work, which has a focus on form, function as well as the aesthetics.

Today, design is an integral part of our growing society and part of day to day life. Design is a course that helps you to develop your creative and innovative skills. Doon University has started imparting design education on the pattern of leading design institutes through its new school called School of Design from the academic session 2015-16, making professional design education available, at an affordable cost, in the state for the first time. The infrastructure and teaching is at par with other National Institutes imparting design education in the country through experienced design faculty and staff.

The School of Design at Doon University is based and formulated on the University education structure and offers a B. Design graduation program. The School offers a four year program consisting of eight semesters. The teaching pedagogy lays emphasis on creative thinking and a critical analysis of the product, so that it is both functional and aesthetic in appearance as well as has a hands-on approach to shape it. The focus is on nurturing the creative aptitude in each student and develops their ability to evolve in the process of problem solving.

The emphasis at school is given to design education in relation to our eco-system and society that we live in as well as the environment, which we need to preserve. Aim is to turn out design graduates, who are 'industry-ready ' and have the necessary skills to be absorbed in different work arenas. Participation of industry professionals and solving industrial problems in the real work situation is the essence of design education at School of Design.

After a common foundation program, students will be required to pursue a three year specialization. We currently offer Product Design & Graphic Design. The curriculum of specialization courses is developed on the basis of the market needs and hence is dynamic in nature. The specializations will be offered in consultation with the student after an evaluation of performance and aptitude in foundation year.

The department proactively undertakes students' internships and placement responsibilities. Our graduates can be employed in the creative departments of many industries like the burgeoning online industries, publishing, consumer electronics, automobiles, handicrafts, furniture, etc.

8.7 School of Physical Sciences (SoPS)

The School of Physical Science with its four departments: Physics, Chemistry, Mathematics and Computer Science was established in 2015. The School is an active beehive of high quality teaching programs and competent faculty members with various research backgrounds that cater to the ever challenging needs of teaching and technical excellence in all areas of Physical Sciences with globally benchmarked curricula.

The School offers Integrated Masters programme (five-year) in Physics, Chemistry, Mathematics and Computer Science and Masters programmes (two-year) in Physics and Mathematics. The curricula of the Integrated programmes in these subjects are based on UGC's Choice Based Credit System (CBCS) and provides a broad background as well as in-depth study of the subject and related areas. The curriculum is divided mainly into three categories: Core Courses, Discipline Specific Elective (DSE) Courses and Generic Elective (GE) Courses. Core courses are rigorous in-depth courses that build on the foundation and develop critical thinking and problem solving skills. Since the subjects involve a lot of experimental work therefore, substantial laboratory work is an integral part of almost all type of courses.

The two years Masters Programme in Physics is being offered. In its first year of establishment, the department organized a National Seminar on Light and Light based Technology (SLT-2016) in collaboration with IRDE, which was a great success.

Various initiatives are taken by the SoPS for the development of the students by encouraging them to participate in extension activities, such as science workshops, science club, research training programs etc. In order to ensure the exposure of students to the recent developments in scientific research, various seminars, quizzes and workshops on science and technology are organized by Doon Science Club, a joint initiative of Department of Chemistry and Physics. The faculty is also very active in extension activities and in reaching out to students.

Careers in Physics

Physics has always been a path of repute as a career option. The career opportunities span over a large number of fields in core as well as many inter-disciplinary fields. Apart from the prestigious career of a scientist in the leading national and international laboratories and organizations, this stream has become an important field to take up the jobs in Research and Development (R&D) in industries (such as Chemical industry, Electronics industry, Optics/Optoelectronics and Imaging industry, Industries of Device development, Industry involved in Smart-Materials, Industries of green-energy harvesting technologies etc). The sectors such as market analyses through the theories of physics, applications of physics in IT-sectors are the other emerging fields for a lucrative career.

Research in Physics

The department aims to establish the state-of-the art experimental and computational facilities that will allow to venture into emergent interdisciplinary areas like nanoscience and nanotechnology, condensed matter physics, computational materials science, theoretical physics, space and atmospheric physics and energy harvesting technology. The faculties of the department are engaged in the research through the international collaborations taking up the emerging challenges of scientific research. As of the date the Department is equipped with furnaces, Electro-deposition assembly, Chemical Vapor Deposition (CVD) system, Fume-hood, hot air ovens, spin-coater, UV-Ozone cleaner, hot-plates with magnetic stirrer, ultra-sonicators, analytical measuring balance, UV-Xenon, sensing systems and PVD systems. The procurement of solar simulator and High performance Computer(HPC) is under process. The Department also uses the Central Instrumentation Facility of Doon University. The research is supported through various projects taken up by the faculties of the Department. There is a running MoU signed along with IRDE, Dehradun (a lab of DRDO) for collaborative research.

Ph.D. Programme in Physics

The Department is offering Ph.D. programme for the students with the essential qualifications and aims to establish the state-of-the art experimental and computational facilities that will allow to venture into emergent interdisciplinary areas like nanoscience and nanotechnology, condensed

Careers in Chemistry

Chemistry offers a huge spectrum of career opportunities in the fields of chemical engineering, chemical analysis and synthesis, quality control and quality assurance, analytical chemistry, health care and clinical R & D, nanotechnology, pharmacology, chemical technology, crystallography, solid waste management, toxicology, etc. The subject forms the backbone of basic research carried out in various industries such as dyes and pigments, food and cosmetics, flavor and fragrance, pharmaceuticals, petroleum and natural gas industries, etc. The interdisciplinary approach further expands the career options in various fields such as molecular biology, biochemistry, material science and biophysics, and non-traditional areas such as medicine, patent or environmental law, forensic science, technical writing, art conservation and environmental studies.

Research in Chemistry

Research activities form the core of any Ph.D. program. Creative and meticulous investigations is the basis of underlying research work. Ph.D. program in Chemistry includes a rigorous course work, scientific writing, research and literature seminars, in-depth dissertation research under the supervision of a research advisor, and a public thesis defense. At present following broad areas are being offered for research in chemistry: Catalysis, Chemistry of Nanomaterials, Applications of Nanomaterials in water remediation and drug delivery, Coordination Chemistry, Green Chemistry, Structural Chemistry and Crystallography and Supramolecular Chemistry.

Ph.D. Programme in Chemistry

The Department is offering Ph.D. programme for the students with the essential qualifications and aims to establish the state-of-the art experimental facilities that will allow to venture into emergent interdisciplinary areas like nanoscience and nanotechnology, catalysis, organic syntheses, coordination chemistry, drug delivery systems, separation science and analytical sciences, and water remediation, polymer science and organometallics.

Careers in Computer Science

The role that computers have played and continues to play cannot be overstated. With rapidly evolving technology and the continuous need for innovation, computer science continues to be an exciting and lucrative field of study. Learning how to code teaches you how to think. Stephen Hawking proclaims the necessity of computer programming with his statement, "Whether you want to uncover the secrets of the universe, or you want to pursue a career in the 21st century, basic computer programming skill is an essential skill to learn."

In pursuit of excellence in teaching and research, Department of Computer Science aims to be recognized as a technologically advanced center. Currently, the department is offering a 5-year Integrated M.Sc. programme in Computer Science that has an exit option with B.Sc. (Hons) in Computer Science. During the course of the Integrated M.Sc. programme, the students will develop deep discipline specific knowledge as well as the skills required for graduate level employment. There are various computational subjects that are of industrial relevance and at the same time required at the forefront of pursuing a research career in Computer Science.

8.8 Dr. Nityanand Himalayan Research and Study Centre

The name of the Institute is given after renowned Himalayan Geographer Dr. Nitya Nand. He was head of Geography Department in D.B.S. (PG) College Dehra Dun from 1965 to 1985. His contribution in the field of Geography is remarkable. He wrote a book “The Holy Himalaya: A Geographical Interpretation of Garhwal Himalaya” in 1989 which is a land mark contribution. This book carries his original contribution on the various aspects of the Garhwal Himalaya. Dr. Nitya Nand carried out his field work in Uttarakhand during 1965 to 85 when means of transport were inadequate. He raised the natural and social problems of the Garhwal Himalaya. He published research paper in International and National Journals. He was not only an academician but social worker also. He had been a serious teacher, genuine researcher and committed social worker. He inspired hundreds of students and persons in the field of geography and social work who are carrying forward his mission in nation building. After his retirement from the academic service he established a SEWA ASHRAM at Maneri (Uttarkashi) for the victims of 1991 Uttarkashi earthquakes. He started there “Uttaranchal Daiviy Aapada Peedit Sahayata Samiti”. His whole concern was on the Himalayan people and this is why the Himalayan Geographical Research and Study Center has been established after his name in the Doon University, Dehra Dun.

It is matter of great pleasure that the Doon University has established Dr. Nitya Nand Himalayan Geographical research and Study Center with the help of financial and administrative support of Uttarakhand State Government. It is presently functioning as a state level geographical research center for scholars and master degree in geography, geology and diploma in remote sensing and GIS in which 20 seats in each subjects.

Mission of the Center

The center aim to built professional and applied research compatibility in Geography, Geology, GIS, Computer Cartography and Digital Mapping, Disaster management and surveying for various section of the society in the Himalayan region with special reference to the Uttarakhand State.

Objectives of the Center

1. The main aim of the center is to establish the Himalayan Geographical Research Institute in Uttarakhand State on the line of Wadia Institute of Himalayan Geology, and other Govt. departments.

2. To build hi-tech education and applied research center of the state in which physical, social, cultural and economic aspects of the region will be undertaken for instigation.
3. To divide the state into different planning regions of different orders and study of each region.
4. To prepare the long term sustainable planning format for micro, meso and macro regions in the state.
5. One year diploma course in R.S., GIS and Computer Cartography will built technical and job oriented professionals who may find jobs in government, private institutes, industries and other services. Geographical and GIS studies will help in investigation of feasibility assessment programs and development of Uttarakhand Geo-portal.

Centre for Public Policy (CPP)

The Centre for Public Policy (CPP) has been established through an endowment provided by the National Thermal Power Corporation (NTPC) in 2006. It is anchored in the School of Social Sciences but acts as an autonomous Centre, carrying out its various activities as per the decisions taken by various Committees constituted for discharging its mandate.

The Centre aims to promote and nurture research and make serious efforts in the domain of public policy, with special reference to the mountainous regions like Uttarakhand. With this end in focus it reaches out to establish an on-going dialogue with all researchers and research projects that are in progress in Uttarakhand - in Universities, Colleges and various institutions of excellence, both past and present.

The Centre for Public Policy has hitherto been active in preparatory actions related to sustainable development and Climate Change. The Centre on its part not only provided an anchor role to the Nodal Officer but also helped in conducting various consultations with departments, including meetings at the highest levels. The role played by the Centre, the School and the Doon University now forms an important part of the project on Safer and Sustainable Uttarakhand.

With a view to promote research in identified interdisciplinary areas and associated related issues the Centre shall offer research scholarship, fellowship/assistantship to the Masters, Ph.D. students and eminent scholars.
